

Grade 1: Curriculum Map

EL Education's grades K–2 comprehensive literacy curriculum is 3 hours per day of content-based literacy:

- Module lessons (60 minutes of daily instruction): Explicitly teach and formally assess all reading comprehension, writing, speaking and listening, and language standards and strands of the Common Core State Standards (CCSS) for English Language Arts & Literacy.
- Labs (60 minutes of daily instruction): Build students' oral language, content knowledge, and habits of character through inquiry and hands-on exploration. The Labs reinforce literacy skills, content knowledge, and habits of character taught in the module lessons and provide teachers with additional time to document students' progress toward particular standards.
- K–2 Reading Foundations Skills Block (60 minutes of daily instruction): Teaches and assesses all reading foundations standards and language standards associated with spelling and letter formation (see the K–2 Reading Foundations Skills Block Scope and Sequence documents).

The module lessons and Labs work together to help students develop literacy skills as they build knowledge about the world.

During Labs, students reinforce their understanding of the module content and literacy skills through five different Labs: Create, Engineer, Explore, Imagine, and Research. The Labs take place across four stages: Launch, Practice, Extend, and Choice and Challenge. These stages support increasing student independence and complexity in the Labs' tasks. Refer to the K–5 ELA guidance document and the Implementing the Labs document for additional information on Labs.

Structure of a Module

- Each module provides eight weeks of instruction<sup>1</sup>, broken into three shorter units. Each module includes:
  - A final performance task that is a more supported project, often involving research
  - Three assessments (one per unit), which are almost always “on-demand”: Students complete an independent task (or with prompting and support, as the CCSS may dictate) on reading, writing, speaking, and/or listening
  - Checklists for select reading, writing, speaking and listening, and language standards: Teachers use these checklists throughout module lessons to track students' progress on specific standards or sub-standards

<sup>1</sup> For K–2, Module 1 is just six weeks long, to allow more time for establishing classroom routines.

Structure of a Year of Instruction

- There are four modules per grade level.
- Teachers should teach the modules in order, beginning with Module 1 (which lays the foundation for both teachers and students regarding classroom culture and instructional routines).

How to Read This Document

The purpose of this document is to provide a high-level summary of each module and name the standards explicitly taught and formally assessed (through unit assessments and checklists) within them. The charts that follow outline for each module:

- Focus: The “focus” is the same across the grades K–2 band and signals the progression of literacy skills across the year as well as alignment to the CCSS instructional shifts.
- Title: This signals the topic students will be learning about (often connected to social studies or science) and aligns with Instructional Shift #3, building knowledge through content-rich nonfiction.
- Description: This tells the basic “story” of the eight-week arc of instruction: the literacy skills, content knowledge, and central text(s).
- Texts: These texts are ones that all students either read themselves or hear read aloud. The text(s) in bold are the central texts for a given module: the text(s) with which students spend the most time. Recall that texts can be complex based on both qualitative and quantitative measures. Texts are listed in order from most quantitatively complex (based on Lexile® measure) to least quantitatively complex. Texts near the bottom of the list are often complex in ways not measured by the Lexile tool: meaning/purpose, text structure, language, and/or knowledge demands. Within a given module, the list shows the wide variety of texts students read, write, and speak about using evidence as they build knowledge about the topic. For a procurement list of specific texts that need to be purchased for use with the curriculum, visit our website
- Lexile: This details the quantitative range of complexity for the given CCSS grade band—in this case, Grade 1. Note: For kindergarten and Grade 1, students engage with complex text through read-alouds. Typically, this text is two or three grade levels above what they would be able to read independently.
- Performance Task: This is a culminating project that takes place during Unit 3 of every module. Performance tasks are designed to help students synthesize and apply their learning from the module in an engaging and authentic way. Performance tasks are never “on-demand” assessments; rather, they are scaffolded and almost always include peer critique and revision.
- Unit-Level Assessments
  - Each unit assessment is “on-demand” and designed to show what students know or can do on their own (or with prompting and support, as the CCSS may dictate).
  - Unit assessments are designed for students to experience as a typical lesson in the course of the unit using formats that students have been explicitly taught and used before the assessment.
  - Unit assessments are also designed to be curriculum-embedded opportunities to practice—in an age-appropriate manner—the types of skills needed on state assessments in Grades 3–5.

Grade 1: Curriculum Map

- The curriculum map below lists the title of each unit-level assessment, CCSS assessed, and the format.
  - Speaking and listening (discussion or oral presentation)
  - Drawing and dictation
  - Cut and paste or sorting (students cut and paste or sort visuals to indicate understanding)
  - Selected response (multiple choice questions)
  - Short constructed response (short answer questions)
  - Extended response (longer writing that is either on-demand or scaffolded and scored using the Grades K–2 opinion, informative, and narrative writing rubrics)
  - Scaffolded writing (involving planning, drafting, and revision)
- Checklists: Each module contains assessment checklists to be used by the teacher to informally track students' ongoing progress toward targeted standards. Opportunities to use these checklists are explicitly noted in module lessons.
- Standards: For each module, the standards assessed are indicated with either an X or a check mark. An X indicates standards that are assessed on unit-level assessments. A check mark indicates standards that are assessed in an ongoing manner with module checklists.

Notes:

- The Labs block is not shown on the curriculum map because it does not include formal assessments; however, each Lab provides additional opportunities for informal assessment of targeted literacy standards, and therefore is a critical component of this comprehensive curriculum. Checklists for those targeted standards are provided in the Labs materials for each module. As stated above, the Labs for a given module are on the same topic as the module lessons and work in conjunction with those lessons.
- Consider spending significant time orienting to this document before the school year begins to determine which standards will repeat and which will not, in order to know where to prioritize time when considering pacing in the module. Pay close attention to those standards addressed only in Module 4 to ensure realistic pacing across the year so these standards are taught and assessed.

Focus	Building Literacy in a Collaborative Classroom	What's Up in the Sky	Building Expertise through Research	Contributing to the Community
Title	Tools and Work	A Study of the Sun, Moon, and Stars	Birds' Amazing Bodies	Caring for Birds
Description	In this module, students build their literacy and citizenship skills as they engage in a study of tools and work. Students first learn about how tools help to do a job through informational text and hands-on experiences. They then extend their understanding of what it takes to do a job when they learn how the “habits of character” of initiative, collaboration, perseverance, and responsibility help them do work. Students also analyze how various characters from literary texts use these habits of character to help them make work easier and solve dilemmas. Finally, students take all they have learned about tools and work to create a “magnificent thing” that fulfills an authentic classroom need (e.g., pencil holder for classroom use). Students share, discuss, and reflect on their creation.	In this module, students build their literacy and science skills as they engage in a study of the sun, moon, and stars. Students begin their study through various narrative texts and begin to understand how and why the sun, moon, and stars inspire authors. Then students focus their study on the scientific concepts of observable patterns of the sun, moon, and stars. Students read informational texts and make observations and take notes in a sky notebook to learn about these patterns. Finally, students synthesize their learning from both their scientific study and study of literature to compose a narrative poem titled “What the Sun Sees.” Students then learn to give feedback to their peers and revise their writing.	In this module, students build their literacy skills as they engage in an in-depth study of birds’ bodies. The module focuses on the following big ideas: Animals have physical features that help them survive, and animals behave in ways that help them survive. Students begin their study by considering the guiding question: “What makes a bird a bird?” They then build research skills and background knowledge about birds through reading, talking, and representing (through scientific drawing, writing, role-play, music, and movement). Students participate in both whole group and small group research to learn more about the form and function of key bird parts: beaks and feathers. Students show their learning by writing an informational paragraph that describes how beaks or feathers help birds survive. Finally, students create Expert Bird Riddle cards and Expert Bird Scientific Drawing cards for a riddle matching game using facts from their research.	In this module, students continue to build on their knowledge of birds from Module 3 to deepen their literacy skills and explore the guiding question: “Why should we care about birds?” Students begin to consider this question by reading a variety of literary texts with characters that care for birds. They then learn about writing opinions as they investigate a specific bird, Pale Male, who built its nest in the heart of New York City. Students read about people’s differing opinions about this nest and then write their own opinions in response to the evidence they gather. Students also learn about some of the problems birds face more generally, and what humans can do to help them live and grow. They learn about the myriad ways birds are helpful to plants, animals, and people. For the performance task, students create a piece of artwork and writing that serves an authentic need in their school or local community: a Feathered Friend Saver. This performance task includes a high quality portrait of a local bird that is formatted to attach to a window. When displayed in a window, the portrait helps to prevent birds from flying into the window. Students also individually create a short piece of writing to teach the recipient of the Feathered Friend Saver facts about birds.

Common Core State Standards for ELA & Literacy Formally Assessed, by Module

- In the curriculum map below, any specific CCSS marked with an “X” indicates that standard is assessed in a unit-level assessment in a given module. In addition, any standard marked with a check mark indicates that a standard is assessed in an ongoing manner with a checklist throughout a module.
- Some standards are formally assessed in multiple modules.
- Because of the integrated nature of the standards, even standards that are not formally assessed are often embedded in instruction throughout every module (e.g., RL/RI.1). Refer to the “Unit-at-a-Glance” in the Unit Overview to determine which standards are addressed (even if not formally assessed) in the instruction of each lesson.
- Some standards are not applicable in an on-demand assessment context because they happen over a span of time (e.g., R.10, W.10, L.6). In the curriculum map below, these standards are noted as “integrated throughout.”
- Many standards (e.g., W.2) have a main standard and then subcomponents (e.g., W.2a). Sometimes, students’ mastery of the entirety of this standard is scaffolded across multiple modules. Therefore, in the curriculum map below, the “parent” standard is marked only if all components of that standard are formally assessed within that particular module. Otherwise, just the specific components are marked.
