

The Spelling Bee

Cycle 9 Decodable
Student Reader

James had not always been a good speller, but he worked hard to get better. He dreamed of winning the spelling bee. He was so happy when his teacher chose him to go to the City Spelling Bee.

Tonight was the big night.
Grandma made James wear a tie for the spelling bee. He tugged at the tie on his neck as he spelled words in his head. He was ready.

He and the other kids walked out on the stage to begin the spelling bee. There were so many people there to watch them. They all clapped as the kids walked out on stage.

James sat on the stage with the other kids. He saw his sister, Pat, and Grandma sitting in the front row. Pat was still clapping. James grinned.

The spelling bee began and James was getting all the words right. Other kids were spelling words wrong, so they had to leave the stage. Finally only James and his friend Nell were left.

It was Nell's turn. A teacher read the word to her. She spelled it wrong! James stopped to think about the word. Then he spelled it. He was right. James won the spelling bee!

James almost tripped as he walked over to the teacher. She said, "James is the winner!" James grinned. He was sad for Nell, but still very happy he won. The people clapped and clapped.

He went to where Grandma and Pat were sitting. Grandma patted his head then kissed his cheek. Pat hugged him very hard. They were all filled with joy. James had worked so hard and he had won!

Local Student Wins City Spelling Bee!

By Tina Tipster

Over twenty students from across the city competed last night in the City Spelling Bee, held at the Trove Public Library. The event was emceed by local news anchorman, Brad Cast.

The competition began at 7:00 PM. After twenty rounds, only two participants remained: Sunnyside residents Nell Nash and James Lewis. The final winner was James, who correctly spelled the word "hummingbird" after Nell forgot to include two "m's" in the middle.

After winning James said, "I am so glad that my Grandma and my little sister, Patricia, were here to see me win. I want to congratulate Nell. She is my friend and she did a great job, too."

James will advance to the State Spelling Bee, held in Capital City, next month. He will compete for the chance to attend the National Spelling Bee in Washington, D.C.
