

Daily and Supporting Learning Targets

- Opening A: I can follow along in a shared text (poem).
  - I can count the number of words in a sentence.
  - I can point to the first word in a sentence.
  - I can point to the last word in a sentence.
  - I can point to words in a text.
  - I can move my finger under words as I read them on a page, left to right and top to bottom.
- Opening B: I can search for letters in a familiar text (poem): “b,” “o,” and “w.” (RF.K.1)
  - I can identify the name of each uppercase and lowercase letter.
  - I can look at each consonant and say its sound.
  - I can identify the short vowel sound for every vowel letter.
- Work Time A: I can follow directions for writing letters “b,” “o,” and “w.” (L.K.1)
  - I can print many uppercase letters.
  - I can print many lowercase letters.

Ongoing Assessment

- Observe students during the Opening. Determine whether they can identify the letters “b,” “o,” and “w” in the shared text.
- Observe students during Work Time to notice preferred grip during letter formation and correct as necessary.
- Record students’ progress on the Snapshot Assessment.

Agenda

1. Opening (5 minutes)
  - A. Poem Launch: “Would You Ever?”
  - B. Poem Letter Search: “b,” “o,” and “w”
2. Work Time (10–15 minutes)
  - A. Getting to Know Letters (Part 2): “b,” “o,” and “w”
3. Closing and Assessment (2 minutes)
  - A. Reflecting on Learning
4. Differentiated Small Group Instruction and Rotations (40–45 minutes)

Teaching Notes

In advance:

- Post enlarged poem: “Would You Ever?” (see supporting materials).
- Review Letter Formation Guidance document (see K–2 Skills Resource Manual).
- Copy the “b,” “o,” and “w” handwriting papers.

- Prepare Snapshot Assessment (optional; one per student).
- Draw three horizontal lines on the board (two solid lines with a dotted line in the middle for letter formation demonstration).

Vocabulary

Key:

(L): Lesson-Specific Vocabulary

(T): Text-Specific Vocabulary

- keyword (L)
- lonely, wrestling (T)

Materials

- ☑ Enlarged poem: “Would You Ever?” (to display; see supporting materials)
- ☑ Keyword Picture Cards: “b,” “o,” and “w” (one of each for teacher to display; from Lesson 51)
- ☑ Large pointer (optional; for teacher to point to words in poem as the class recites)
- ☑ Poetry notebooks
- ☑ Poem: “Would You Ever?” (one per student)
- ☑ Highlighter, highlighter tape, or Wikki Stix (one for teacher to circle the letter in poem)
- ☑ Writing utensil (optional; for students to circle the letters in their poetry notebook or on their loose copy of the poem; one per student)
- ☑ Letter Formation Guidance document (standalone document for teacher reference; see K–2 Skills Resource Manual)
- ☑ “b,” “o,” and “w” handwriting papers (one per student)
- ☑ Snapshot Assessment (optional; one per student)

Opening

---

A. Poem Launch: “Would You Ever?”

- (Suggested transition song, sung to the tune of “I’m a Little Teapot”):

“Now let’s read the poem, line by line. Open up your ears to find the rhyme. When we read together, we sound great. Listen up to the rhymes we make.”
- Display enlarged poem: “Would You Ever?”
- Begin the Poem Launch instructional practice:
  1. Teacher invites three students to hold the Keyword Picture Cards: “b,” “o,” and “w.”
  2. Teacher says: “Listen closely as I read this poem. Touch your nose if you hear anything about our bear, octopus, or water. Our volunteers will hold up their Keyword Picture Card when they hear their character mentioned.”
  3. Teacher reads enlarged poem: “Would You Ever?” once or twice through with expression, making movements that illustrate the actions in the poem (examples: wrestling a bear, eating a pear).

4. Teacher asks:
  - “Would you ever do these silly things?”*
  - “What does a sad, lonely /o/ctopus look like?”*
  - “What would /w/ater as cold as ice make you feel like?”*
5. Teacher says: “Now let’s learn the poem. I’ll say the first line and make movements that show the actions in the poem, and you’ll repeat. We’ll do that for each line in the poem.”
6. Teacher and students recite the poem aloud together one or two more times, making movements that illustrate the actions in the poem.

Meeting Students’ Needs

- In step 4, when asking questions, draw students’ awareness of the new phonemes (/w/ and /o/) by emphasizing the beginning sounds in the words: “octopus” and “water.”
- Acting out the actions in the poem not only engages students but also develops Vocabulary. Example:
  - Asking them to make connections between descriptions and actions reinforces the new Vocabulary words.

B. Poem Letter Search: “b,” “o,” and “w”

- (Suggested transition song, sung to the tune of “I’m a Little Teapot”):
  - “Now let’s read the poem, line by line. Letters make words and words make rhymes. We will search for letters, short and tall. Search them out and have a ball!”*
- Distribute poetry notebooks or copies of the poem: “Would You Ever?” to individuals or partners.
- Begin the Poem Letter Search instructional practice:
  1. Teacher and students recite the poem, pointing to each word as they read it. During the shared reading of the poem, teacher asks students to:
    - Point to the first word in each line.
    - Point to the last word in each line.
    - Count the number of words in each line.
  2. Teacher displays the Keyword Picture Cards: “b,” “o,” and “w.”
  3. Teacher models searching for the letter “b.”
  4. Teacher circles it in the enlarged poem: “Would You Ever?” with a highlighter.
  5. Teacher says: “The letter ‘b’ starts the word ‘bear.’ I can hear the /b/ sound at the beginning of the word ‘bear.’”
  6. Students circle the letter in their own copy of the poem with a writing utensil, if using.
  7. Repeat steps 3–6 another time with the same letter.
  8. Repeat steps 3–6 a few times with remaining letters “o” and “w.” Review letters from previous cycles, if time allows.

9. Teacher says: “Today, we searched in the poem for letters we know. In the next lesson, we will search for special words called high-frequency words. That means authors use them all the time in their writing. We are going to figure out which high-frequency words the author used in this poem. Right now, it’s a mystery. I wonder which word it could be. We’ll find out soon!”

Meeting Students’ Needs

- If students have their own copy of the poem and have trouble finding the letter, consider partnering them with a friend who can help them locate the letter.
- Consider inviting individual students to come up and circle or highlight the letter(s) they find on the enlarged poem.
- Support students’ developing skill of connecting the phoneme (sound) to grapheme (letter) by repeating each word containing the letters being searched, emphasizing the letters’ sound in the word. Example:
  - “Right, you found another ‘b’ in the word ‘be.’ /b/-e.”

Work Time

A. Getting to Know Letters (Part 2): “b,” “o,” and “w”

- (Suggested transition song, sung to the tune of “I’m a Little Teapot”):

“Now we’ll write a letter, line by line. Get your hand ready to start on time. When we write a letter, we start on top. Pull down until it’s time to stop.”
- Begin the Getting to Know Letters (Part 2) instructional practice:
  1. Teacher reviews letter sounds from Lesson 51.
  2. Teacher selects sound for review: /b/.
  3. Teacher says the name and sound of the letter: “b, /b/.”
  4. Teacher skywrites the letter while echoing the sound: /b/.
  5. Students echo the sound and say the letter while skywriting: /b/.
  6. Teacher invites students to follow along while writing the letters on the board.
  7. Teacher directs students in proper letter formation with letter formation directions (referring to the standalone Letter Formation Guidance document).

Example:

    - “b” is a head line letter. It starts on the head line.
    - Point to the head line.
    - Pull down to the feet line.
    - Trace back up to the belly line and curve all the way around right back to the feet line.
    - Teacher says: “b, bear, /b/.”
    - Students repeat: “b, bear, /b/.”
  8. Students write letter on their “b” handwriting paper. Teacher directs students with letter formation guidance for lowercase “b.”

9. Teacher circulates to assist students as needed, checking for proper grip.
10. Students repeat letter formation two more times.
11. Repeat steps 2–10 with uppercase “b,” upper- and lowercase “o,” and upper- and lowercase “w” using the appropriate handwriting papers.
12. Teacher says: “Great job writing the letters ‘b,’ ‘o,’ and ‘w.’ Remember, to make the letter ‘b,’ (repeat letter formation directions). When we make the letter ‘o,’ (repeat letter formation directions). And when we make the letter ‘w,’ (repeat letter formation directions).”

Meeting Students' Needs

- Support students' understanding of left-to-right directionality with large, clear illustration of letter formation.
- Consider encouraging students to point to the body parts used in letter formation guidance (head, belly, feet) to support spatial and kinesthetic knowledge connection.

Closing and Assessment

A. Reflecting on Learning

- Emphasize that successful learners think about what they've learned and why it's important. Consider using a metaphor, such as a baseball player learning to keep his or her eye on the ball to know exactly when to hit it.
- Ask:

“When we write the letter ‘b,’ how can we remember where to start?” (Start at the head line.)

“How will that help us with writing?” (Responses will vary.)

Meeting Students' Needs

- For students who need additional support organizing their ideas: Provide sentence frames. Examples:
  - “When I write the letter ‘b,’ I ____.”
  - “When I see the letter ‘o,’ I know it says ____.”

Differentiated Small Groups: Work with Teacher

Suggested Plan: Teacher works with the Pre-Alphabetic and Early Partial Alphabetic groups. Teacher may meet briefly with the Late Partial and Early Full Alphabetic groups to get them started on independent work.

Note: Groups not working with the teacher at a given time should be engaged in purposeful independent rotation work. Refer to the Independent and Small Group Work guidance document (see K–2 Skills Resource Manual) for more details.

Pre-Alphabetic:

- Practice activity: Teacher guides students as they practice letter formation for “b,” “o,” and “w,” using “b,” “o,” and “w” handwriting papers from the lesson.
  - Refer to the Letter Formation Guidance document (see K–2 Skills Resource Manual) as needed.
  - Continue to observe grip as students write letters.
  - Some students in this phase may need to work with forming straight and curved lines before continuing practice with letter formation.
  - If students need additional practice, consider providing a variety of materials for writing, such as sand trays, bags of shaving cream, etc.
- Consider also reading the Letter Stories: “b,” “o,” or “w,” found in the Learning Letters Book. After reading the story, practice skywriting the letter.

Early Partial Alphabetic:

- Practice activity: Students practice letter formation for “b,” “o,” and “w,” using “b,” “o,” and “w” handwriting papers from the lesson.
  - Refer to the Letter Formation Guidance document (see K–2 Skills Resource Manual) as needed.
  - Continue to observe grip as students write letters.
- Consider also reading the Letter Stories: “b,” “o,” or “w,” found in the Learning Letters Book. After reading the story, practice skywriting the letters.

Late Partial and Early Full Alphabetic:

- Practice activity: Students practice letter formation for “b,” “o,” and “w,” using “b,” “o,” and “w” handwriting papers from the lesson.
  - Refer to the Letter Formation Guidance document (see K–2 Skills Resource Manual) as needed.
  - Continue to observe grip as students write letters.
